Level Platforms Announces February 2012 Road Show Event

Ottawa, ON, Canada – January 17, 2012: Level Platforms, a global leader in remote monitoring and management solutions for MSPs, is launching a 17-city international road show event focusing on managed services education and collaboration.

The third annual Road Show will feature top MSPs sharing winning strategies and best practices, educational panels featuring the latest industry intelligence and research from Forbes and CompTIA, the launch of Managed Workplace 2012, including details of the new Mobile Device Management, fully integrated NOC and Help Desk services, Managed Print Services and much more. Participants will be able to connect with sponsoring vendor partners including Autotask, Intel, OKI Data and Symantec and a dozen more to learn about their latest managed services initiatives with Managed Workplace. The new extended day-and-half format brings many more opportunities to collaborate and network with other MSPs, IT solution providers and vendors for an in-depth experience to help maximize opportunities in 2012.

“More than 1000 people attended the 2011 Road Show. This year will be bigger and better making this an essential event for anyone planning to grow their managed services business in 2012,” said Dan Wensley, Vice President of Partner Development and Marketing, Level Platforms. “Our ultimate goal is to help attendees be successful in the increasingly competitive MSP marketplace. We have put together a curriculum that includes valuable industry information, networking time for sharing ideas and training. For 2012 we are excited to bring the Road Show to the UK and Ireland where we have a large and growing base of Level Platforms Partners.”

Agenda Highlights:

- Expanded agenda includes an additional MSP panel, opening reception, dinner and networking time prior to the full day event
- Two MSP panels will highlight real-world insight and best practices for sales and marketing, and technical service delivery
- Exclusive Industry announcements from Level Platforms, including details on new services and capabilities – NOC, Help Desk and Mobile Device Management

The Managed Services Education and Collaboration Road Show is free to attend, however space is limited. Based on last year's success we recommend early reservations.
